Minimum age for a Green/Blue Belt promotion is 13 Years Old

General information: A vast majority of judoka in Canada who reach this level of skill development are experiencing various stages of puberty. This period of life offers an unprecedented window of opportunity for development of athletic capacities and judo training has to address it. The performance capacity in all sports is always the athleticism of the individual. For this reason, judo training for youth at this development stage has to offer an optimal training stimul that targets endurance, strength, power and speed besides the technical development. Participation in competition is strongly encouraged. Nage-no-Kata first and second set should be practised at this stage.
